

Fitch Ratings ratifies the international “BBB” investment grade credit rating and the local “AAA” rating with stable perspective in both cases

- The Fitch Ratings agency maintained the international credit rating of Empresa Energía de Bogotá in investment grade with “stable” perspective.
- Also, Fitch ratified the local rating of EEB as ‘AAA (col)’, the highest in the national scale.
- In addition, Fitch Ratings confirmed the international credit rating of its associated company TGI as BBB with stable perspective.

Bogota, D.C., October 12, 2017. The Fitch Ratings agency has ratified the credit rating (BBB), with stable perspective of the EEB S.A. ESP corporate debt and its associated company Transportadora de Gas International S.A. E.S.P. (TGI), corresponding to the investment grade.

EEB ratings include its diversified portfolio of companies, which maintain a solid business position and a predictable cash flow generation resulting mostly from natural regulated monopolies. These ratings also reflect the company’s new growth strategy.

The low risk profile of the EEB business is consistent with the risk rating obtained, which is comparable to other domestic companies within the sector and maintains a stable status.

Likewise, the agency ratified the ‘AAA(col)’ rating for local Public Debt Bonds issues for up to USD 450 million dollars or the equivalent in Colombian pesos of EEB.

Astrid Alvarez, President of EEB, declared that these positive ratings reflect the stability and strength of the Group and restate market confidence in the company’s future.
